"EVERY STEP YOU TAKE, EVERY MOVE YOU MAKE"

Megan Geckler based in Los Angeles. She is an installation artist who creates site-specific one-of-a-kind installations using flagging tape. Flagging tape, which Megan ribbon typically used by construction workers on sites to mark space. Megan's creations are a part of the space, and she uses the architecture as not only a construction to work from and tie into, but also as inspiration for the form of the piece. Each piece appears so precise and machine-made that it is hard to fathom that each is constructed by hand.

Her most recent piece called "Every step you take, every move you make" (pictured above) is on display at the The Pasadena Museum of California Art (PMCA) in the PMCA Project Room. "Megan Geckler for Bobble." may be the most colorful one ever.

Geckler has been exhibiting in galleries, museums and alternative spaces since 1998, with many shows in the United States and soon exhibiting around the globe. She has worked with clients such as Urban Outfitters, Nike and Bobble and has mounted solo shows at the Wexner Center for the Arts, the Creative Artists Agency, Sonoma County and the Pasadena Museum of California Art.
