

Between Art and Design

2010 JULY 21

by Renee Massaro

tags: Megan Geckler

Modern artist Megan Geckler is showing her spectacular, large scale installations at the Pasadena Museum of California Art now through October. She makes site specific, architectural pieces like drawings in space. Strands of flagging tape and colorful plastic ribbon are used for her multidimensional installations and they can actually be transported and easily reinstalled. When asked how the viewer is going to encounter the work, she said that she expects a "wow or WTF" moment, followed by wandering around and experiencing the piece from all different angles. She says her work lies somewhere between art and design. I say wow!

